AH, THE GREAT indoors. Rather than flitting from a Tuscan terrazza to a house in the Hamptons this spring and summer, many of us are splitting our time between the lounge, the kitchen and the garden instead.

The good news is that being cooped up has been an opportunity to re-evaluate how we spend our time at home, as well as the products and experiences that enrich that part of our lives. So, we say: make the best out of a bad situation.

Discover luxurious loungewear from Loewe, brush up on your Burgundy knowledge (and then put it into practice) with a book from Assouline, conquer your cohabitants with a Smythson backgammon set and finally get round to writing your memoirs with a Noir Special Edition pen from Montblanc. Go ahead, reacquaint yourself with the great indoors.
